Supervisor, Industrial Safety (Nunavut)
Competition# N12/03 NU

Based in Iqaluit, Nunavut, you will have work-life balance that allows you to experience professional satisfaction as well as the adventure, landscapes and incredible nature of the North. Iqaluit has a wonderful sense of community, diverse culture, modern conveniences, and recreational opportunities that are as unique as the North itself.

The Workers' Safety and Compensation Commission (WSCC) of the Northwest Territories and Nunavut has exclusive jurisdiction in all matters affecting compensation for workers injured on the job, and is responsible to administer occupational health and safety legislation for all workers and employers within the Northwest Territories and Nunavut. In partnership with stakeholders, we ensure workplace safety and care for workers. The WSCC upholds the values of respect, engagement, integrity, openness and excellence in the workplace.

The Supervisor, Industrial Safety reports to the Chief Safety Officer, promotes workplace health and safety, and monitors workplaces to ensure compliance with legislation. The Supervisor lead project teams on various enforcement initiatives to reduce workplace injuries, conduct workplace audits and inspections, lead accident investigations, consult with employers regarding workplace health and safety matters, deliver safety education when required, and provide recommendations for prosecution of violators. This position supervises the day-to-day operations of the Industrial Safety unit in Nunavut, and has three direct reports.

The ideal candidate has a related degree or diploma and CRSP designation, combined with five years of industrial safety experience to include two years of supervisory experience. Knowledge of audits, investigative principles and procedures, related acts, codes and regulations, and a variety of occupational health and safety fundamentals is essential. In addition, the successful candidate must have strong communication, interpersonal and conflict resolution skills. We consider equivalent combinations of education and experience.

The salary ranges from $47.26 to $56.42 hourly ($92,157 to $110,019 annually), plus a Northern Allowance $8.06 hourly ($15,714 annually), and a generous benefits package.

A satisfactory criminal record check is required for this position.
